Concept Note –

While the pandemic has deeply affected all individuals globally, women have especially taken a hard hit - with an alarming increase in domestic violence, depression, suicides, and loss of livelihoods. Women are not only encountering the added mental and physical strain of continuous domestic labour, but in dysfunctional and abusive households they are also bearing the brunt of constant mental and physical abuse. This webinar aims to closely look at certain communities and aspects where women are facing immense challenges and difficulties while coping with COVID-19
